TRIPTYCH

Endless

Endless day
Time is my enemy
Tasting vanilla, honey, almonds, and your name

Can't hide my dreaming, confusion and shame
This endless day of longing and pain

I've been under
I've been under water for twenty years
You are the first breath
Fill me up with life again

Endless road
Leading away with you
Once embarked on
Keep in shadow to keep you safe

Treason for freedom
Betrayal for love
Endless movement
Watched from above

I've been under
I've been under water for twenty years
You are the first breath
Fill me up with life again

I've been under...

Seaside hotel morning light
Shatters our cover of night
I'm confused
But it it seems
You're amused
In your dreams

A flutter in your fingertips
Hint of a smile on your lips
In your dreams unaware that in cold sweat I stare at the scene on the wall
above your golden hair

*Familiar image
of wagging tailed hounds
and riding red men
They've found the trail
They have the scent
The hunt is on again
We all know how this scene will end*

*The very clever leading characters
don't yet know their fate
They're together
in the dark den
They still feel great
When they hear the sound it's too late*

In Your Dreams

Driven by love and desire from ashen grey life into fire
But to live in your dreams ain't the best of my schemes
So I whisper white lies hide the fear in my eyes

of ...*

Reality Distortion

Take me back in slo' mo'
Wake me up when they care

Wanna know about the flight
Stagger up and stare

When I see them in the night
the music gets clearer

Can you see the future we made?
Reality distortion

Take you out, to follow
the nothing that is there

On the path a faded sign
Words no longer clear

When I see you in the light
the end is nearer

Can you see the future we made?
Reality distortion

Who are you fighting for?
What are your dreams now?
This was settled a long time ago.
You obviously still believe you are not alone.

Can you see the future we made?
Reality distortion
Can you feel your sanity fade?
Reality distortion
